

World Masters Games Laser Sailing – Take on the Kiwis.

You guys might not be able to play rugby but World Masters Games sailing at Torbay, Auckland from 22nd to 28th April next year offers you the opportunity to cross the ditch, take on the kiwis yourself and while you are at it see a bit of NZ and be part of what will be the biggest world sporting event of 2017.

The World Masters Games will feature a spectacular opening ceremony at Eden Park and a full social program, which are included in your event entry fee and will give you the opportunity to mix with 25,000 other masters athletes from around the world.

Charter boats are available on a first come best dressed basis and can be booked directly from Performance Sailcraft Australia at <http://www.lasersailing.com.au/master-world-games/>

But remember it's all about being there. Unrestricted entry gives you a once in a lifetime opportunity to sail in an event like this, enjoy a bit of great Kiwi hospitality and join in a great social program to back up the racing on the water.

So whether your 35 or 75, organise a boat and join over 100 sailors already registered and enter now.

All the details and registration is at www.worldmastersgames2017.co.nz or Facebook Torbay Sailing Club – World Masters Games 2017 sailing.
